Cow Working Clinics I & II

Cow working I & II classes are for any rider wishing to start their horse on cattle, or to further advance a horse already working cattle. Riders learn about position, timing, pressure points and how to utilize their horsemanship skills to track, sort and cut cattle. The emphasis is on horse and rider teamwork, developing a horse that truly wants to work a cow and on using low-stress livestock handling techniques that pay off on the ranch and in the show ring. The Cow Working I is a great class for all levels, especially for horses and riders that are new to working cattle. The Cow Working II class advances the skills we worked on in the CWI class.
